The John Wood Community College main campus is equipped with an Emergency Audio Evacuation System (EAES) which Campus Police utilizes to broadcast emergency messages immediately upon the confirmation of a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to the health or safety of students, staff, faculty, or campus visitors.
- B. Campus Police will, without delay, taking into account the safety of the campus community, determine the content of the notification and initiate the emergency notification, unless the notification will, in the professional judgment of Campus Police, compromise efforts to assist victims or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency.
- C. Campus Police, depending upon the type of emergency, will confer with College administration to confirm that there is a significant emergency, will then make a determination of the content of the emergency notification and who should be notified, and will then initiate the appropriate notification.

At the time of the examination, testing will also be done in a systematic way to collect evidence that can be used to prosecute the person accused of committing the sexual assault.

- 2. Criminal Justice Procedures:
 - a. Police:
 - i. Sexual assault, sexual abuse, domestic violence, and dating violence are violent crimes. Like all other violent crimes, it is the responsibility of the State to prosecute the accused offender on the victim’s behalf. The victim of sexual assault, domestic violence, or dating violence is encouraged to immediately report the incident to Campus Police. Campus Police will initiate the investigation and assist the victim in exercising the option to inform the appropriate law enforcement authorities. Campus Police maintains a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with the Quincy Police Department whereby the QPD agrees to assist with investigations of major crimes on campus (e.g. sexual assault).
 - ii. Seeking police assistance and court action can reduce the chance that the same accused offender will assault the victim, or someone else.
 - iii. Campus Police will provide victims with a copy of the Illinois Domestic Violence Act Victim Information sheet.
 - b. Prosecution by the Courts:
 - i. Whenever sexual assault, sexual abuse, domestic violence, or dating violence is committed, the State considers the crime an act against the people of the State. Therefore, criminal cases are tried by the State’s Attorney’s Office. The victim is considered a witness to the crime and does not have to pay fees for assistance from the State’s Attorney’s Office.

 - b. Talking with someone who understands can help a victim sort out the emotional aftermath of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking. Campus Police will notify appropriate counseling services and assist the victim in accessing these services.

REPORTING:

- A. John Wood Community College has procedures in place that serve to be sensitive to those who report sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking, including informing individuals about their right to file criminal charges as well as the availability of medical, counseling and support services, and additional remedies to prevent contact between a complainant and an accused party, such as academic and working accommodations, if reasonably available. Students should contact the Dean of Student Services (Title IX Coordinator) and employees should contact the Director of Human Resources (Deputy Title IX Coordinator).
- B. After an incident of sexual assault or domestic violence, the victim should consider seeking medical attention as soon as possible as evidence may be collected even if you choose not to make a report to law enforcement. It is important that a victim of sexual assault not bathe, douche, smoke, change clothing, or clean the bed/linen/area where they were assaulted if the offense occurred within the past 96 hours so that evidence as may be necessary to the proof of criminal activity may be preserved. In circumstances of sexual assault, if victims do not opt for forensic evidence collection, health care providers can still treat injuries and take steps to address concerns of pregnancy and/or sexually transmitted disease. Victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, stalking, and dating violence are encouraged to also preserve evidence by saving text messages, instant messages, social networking pages, other communications, and keeping pictures, logs, or other copies of documents, if they have any, which would be useful to the police. Although the College strongly encourages all members of its community to report violations to law enforcement, it is the victim's choice whether or not to make such a report and victims have the right to decline involvement with the police. The College will assist any victim with notifying local police if they so desire.

- C. If you have been the victim of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking, you are strongly encouraged to report the incident promptly to Campus Police. The College will provide resources to persons who have been victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking, and will apply appropriate disciplinary procedures to those who violate this policy. The procedures set forth below are intended to afford a prompt response to charges of sexual assault, domestic or dating violence, and stalking, to maintain confidentiality and fairness consistent with applicable legal requirements, and to impose appropriate sanctions on violators of this policy.
- D. As time passes, evidence may dissipate or become lost or unavailable, thereby making investigation, possible prosecution, disciplinary proceedings, or obtaining protection from abuse orders related to the incident more difficult. If a victim chooses not to make a complaint regarding an incident, he/she nevertheless should consider speaking with Campus Police or other law enforcement to preserve evidence in the event that the victim changes his/her decision at a later date.
- E. If a report of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking is reported to a College official, the following procedures will be followed as well as a statement of the standard of evidence that will be used during any judicial hearing on campus arising from such a report.

Employee violators are subject to discipline, up to and including termination of employment. Sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking are criminal acts which also may subject the perpetrator to criminal and civil penalties under federal and state law. The College will determine whether protective measures should be implemented, and, if so, take steps to implement those protective measures as soon as possible.
